

1 A regulatory gene is transcribed and makes repressor proteins. The repressor is constantly transcribed, so that there are repressor proteins on hand.

2 Normally, the repressor proteins bind to an operator, and block RNA polymerase from transcribing the genes after it.